

Quasar Data Privacy Policy

Effective Date: April 12, 2024

Welcome to Quasar ("Quasar," "we," "us," or "our"). We are committed to protecting the privacy and security of our users' ("you" or "your") data. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, and share information when you interact with our services. Please read this policy carefully to understand our practices regarding your information.

1. Information We Collect

1.1 Personal Information

- Identifying Information: We may collect personal identifiers such as your name, email address, and contact details when you register for our services or interact with our customer portal.
- Financial Information: If you use our finance-related services, we may collect data necessary to process transactions or integrate with your financial tools.

1.2 Usage Information

- Interactions with Services: We collect information about how you use our services, including access times, pages viewed, and the routes by which you access our services.
- Technical Data: This includes your IP address, browser type, device information, and diagnostic data to help troubleshoot issues and ensure our platform's functionality.

1.3 Information from Third Parties

- We may receive information about you from other sources, including our partners and publicly available databases, which we combine with information we have about you.

2. Use of Information

We use the information we collect for several purposes:

- Service Delivery: To provide, maintain, and improve our services, including customer support and personalized features.

- Communication: To communicate with you about your account, system updates, or informational and marketing communications.
- Security: To protect our services and our customers from fraud, security threats, and other harmful activity.
- Compliance and Enforcement: To comply with legal requirements and enforce our terms and conditions.

3. Sharing of Information

3.1 Service Providers

- We share information with third-party service providers who perform services on our behalf, such as payment processing, data analysis, and email delivery.

3.2 Business Transfers

- In the event of a merger, acquisition, reorganization, or sale of assets, your information may be sold or transferred as part of that transaction.

3.3 Legal Requirements

- We may disclose your information if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to comply with a legal obligation, protect and defend our rights or property, and/or act in urgent circumstances to protect the personal safety of our users or the public.

4. Data Security

We implement a variety of security measures designed to maintain the safety of your personal information when you place an order or enter, submit, or access your personal information.

5. International Data Transfers

Your information may be transferred to, and maintained on, computers located outside of your state, province, country, or other governmental jurisdiction where the privacy laws may not be as protective as those in your jurisdiction.

6. Your Privacy Rights

You have the right to access, correct, or delete your personal information held by us. You can also object to the processing of your data, request a restriction on further data processing, and request data portability by contacting us.

7. Children's Privacy

Our services are not intended for children under the age of 16. We do not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from children under 16.

8. Changes to Our Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you of any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on this page. You are advised to review this Privacy Policy periodically for any changes.
